you can't weigh it on a scale!

Craftsmanship is made up of many intangibles· it's the difference between a Van Gogh at $5,000 and a $20 daub by a novice . . . both the same size, using the same amount of materials. It's the difference in sound between Heifitz on a fine violin and the same instrument in the hands of a "fiddler"

In Revell model kits, it's craftsmanship plus—plus the thousands of hours spent in research in model designing in mold making; the infinite care and patience, the meticulous attention to detail that is part and parcel of every Revell kit. No scale or ruler can measure these added intangibles.

But the Revell craftsmanship is at once apparent when you take a moment to compare. For side by side comparison reveals the difference. And with competition becoming ever keener, with increasing duplication of items and of entire lines, your best interests are best served when you offer the most authentic models, the best values in each category

When you select model kits, weigh this thought . . . the details make the difference . . . and the difference creates the demand . . . for REVELL!

Additions to Revell Ship Series

Copies of Chris-Craft and of the Navy's patrol torpedo boat are the latest additions to REVELL, INC.'S ship series in its plastic model construction kit line. The Chris-Craft is a double cabin flying bridge cruiser.

Both ships are authentically detailed, and each kit includes three miniature human figures. Revell is at 4223 Ocean Park Ave., Venice, Calif.

Giant Size Painting Set

For the paint-by-number enthusiasts who want to paint a huge, sweeping canvas of near-mural size, the Super Craft Master outfit is now available. The canvas measures 36" by 27".

The Super Craft Master oil painting set contains several times as many genuine oil colors as other sets on the market, according to its manufacturer, PALMER PAINT SALES, 4258 Woodward, Detroit 1, Mich. There are 90 oil colors in handy "Press-Fit" capsules, and four good quality artist's brushes. Each set also contains turpentine and overglaze.

There are five different subjects to paint, each packaged in a colorful box. Retail price is $8.95.

Razor Saw Set

Latest in the X-acto line of hobby tools is a new Razor Saw set, containing two razor saw blades of ¾" and 1" widths plus a No. 5 X-acto universal handle. The outfit will retail at $1.75.

The razor saw can be used for fine and accurate cross-cutting, trimming, and notching of metals, wood, and plastics; its narrow blade and fine teeth are said to reduce material waste to a minimum.

An especially practical feature is the angle at which the blade is joined to the handle, permitting closer work in corners, providing longer tool reach (overall length of 9½"), and preventing damage to the user's knuckles.

The blades are replaceable; the No. 5 handle accommodates 21 different styles of X-acto blades, routers, gouges and punches in addition to the razor saw blades.

Further information is available from X-ACTO, INC., 48-41 Van Dam St., Long Island City 1, N. Y.

"fault-finding" is a virtue here!

Most of us know that fault-finding isn't a short cut to winning friends and influencing people. Still there is a place for it... even an honored place... in producing model kits. That's when "fault-finding" is the by-product of fact-finding, the basic function of our Research Department.

At strategic points in the development of each new Revell kit there is stationed a "fault-finder"... whose sole function is to ask: "Have we incorporated every possible detail? Have the official prints been faithfully followed? Have we made this easy to assemble without sacrificing authenticity? Is this addition worthy of the Revell name?"

This is our way of making sure that each new item is a worthy companion to the other Revell items in the line; and equally important, that the million-odd purchasers of Revell kits will find the new item a welcome addition to their collections.

For each Revell item IS a "collector's piece"... authentic, realistic, true to scale... the kind people are proud to display.

That's true customer satisfaction... which makes for repeat sales, more rapid inventory turnover, and of course MORE PROFIT. May we repeat: in this instance "fault-finding" is really a virtue!

THE FLYING FALCON IDEA is bound to get around . . .

because the sensational FLYING FALCON offers both Balloon-tire Comfort and Lightweight Pedaling Ease!

Last summer, AMF Roadmaster introduced an amazing new kind of bike ride . . . the "Glidemaster Ride" of the Flying Falcon. It combines the comfort of balloon-tire riding, the pedaling ease of a 3-speed gear shift and the stopping power of hand brakes.

Chances are good you'll see more and more attempts all through '54 to imitate this better bicycle ride.

But first on the market means first in popularity—that's the big sales advantage AMF Roadmaster offers you.

First is a Roadmaster habit. Roadmaster's famous quality plus AMF engineering brought you many great new advances in '53. This combination is constantly at work developing new products for the ever-changing bicycle market.

When you display and sell the complete AMF Roadmaster line—you make sure you'll be first with the newest—first with the finest.

The Flying Falcon has this Great Combination of Features!

- Three-speed gear shift – easier pedaling
- Long-coasting balloon tires—more comfortable riding
- Hand brakes—quicker, surer stops
- Electronically strengthened frame—more rugged, longer lasting
- Rocket Ray headlight – long range "beamibility"
- Chrome fenders and rims –gleaming good looks

LISBETH WHITING LICENSED FOR PINKY LEE NUMBERS

Tying in with one of the fastest growing shows on daytime television, Lisbeth Whiting Company, Inc., 175 Fifth Avenue, New York City, has been awarded by the National Broadcasting Company, a license to manufacture Pinky Lee games

"The marketing of Pinky Lee items will be one of the greatest sales stimulants ever to hit the toy industry," predicts Randy Patterson, general sales manager of the toy firm

"Jet-propelled is really the word for Pinky Lee," adds Randy "He's shot ahead of many popular and long-established names And the kids love Pinky . . . they do his dances and sing his songs.

"Lisbeth Whiting and Pinky Lee make a natural, dynamic team. As a relatively young firm, Lisbeth Whiting Company has also rocketed forth to an envied position as a good source for superlatively packaged items at 'easy-selling' prices. The Perfume Kits are selling all year 'round and are carried by every prominent toy wholesaler in the country as well as mail order houses and department stores. The factory has tripled its production capacity and is eagerly striving to fill a heavy backlog of orders.

Lisbeth Whiting Company has not yet revealed the first Pinky Lee game but promises it will be a "bombshell." The item, created under the supervision and direction of Ted Cott, NBC vice-president in charge of licensing, and Sid Rubin, manager, licensing division, will be shown to the trade in about two weeks by the company's sales representatives, and will be on display in Room 112, 200 5th Avenue, N. Y.

In addition to Lisbeth Whiting's Perfume Kits, the firm manufactures an attractive Bracelet Bangles" kit, $1.79 retail, which enables a child to make four extremely cute bracelets; and also markets the "Official School Coach," $1 retail, a basic and popular number that teaches spelling, adding and subtracting

PACIFIC COAST SAILING RACES

The first boat to cross the finish line at Boca Chica, one of the two entrances to Acapulco, at 10:45 A.M. Central Standard Time on January 24, was the Island Clipper Class sloop Conejo, with a total elapsed time of 12 days 18 hours 13 minutes 5 seconds. She automatically eliminated the scratch boat Novia del Mar, and two others above her on the handicap list. As she is owned by Wolf Shoenborn of the Club de Yates, Acapulco, she was given a great ovation. The win by an Acapulco yacht should make for more Mexican entries in future races. Dr. Don Spiers' Jasada, followed with an elapsed time of 13 days 21 hours 50 minutes 44 seconds, to be followed less than one hour later by Moonbeam

The hospitable Mexican and American population outdid themselves in entertaining the racing crews, culminating in the grand festival and trophy presentation dinner at the Club de Yates. The President of Mexico was represented by Brig. General Peñez, who gave the winning trophy to Senor Shoenborn. Secretary of the Navy Trophy for second place was presented to Moonbeam by Rear Admiral Miguel Manzarraga, Commander of the Acapulco Naval Base. There were many other fine trophies.

So successful was this inaugural race that it will be run again this month (January 1954) and at the time of writing seven entries have been received; several of these are repeaters. After this year it will be run every even year, alternating with the Honolulu race which is run every odd year.

Los Angeles-Honolulu Race

The year 1953 being odd numbered, the race started off Los Angeles Harbor Light on July 4. Thirty-two starters crossed the line. Light winds had been predicted for some days before the race by the weather man, who gradually changed his forecasts as the date of the start neared.

The 1953 race was noteworthy in that one of the vessels was the 161-foot schooner Goodwill owned by Ralph Larrabee. There were many inexpert opinions of how she would perform. Her spinnaker pole was 70 feet long, engineered and made by the Douglas Aircraft Company, and the vessel had to be equipped with special gear to handle it. It was predicted by some people that the pole and the 11,000 square-foot spinnaker would be unmanageable in a heavy sea, and that there was bound to be accident and loss of life in its use. The crew had worked together as a team for weeks, and had handled the gear in all but blue water conditions. There were no accidents, and her hard-working crew brought her across the finish line in a cloud of canvas. She carried everything she could crowd on: spinnaker, jib, gollywobbler, foretopsail, main, and maintopsail. She actually ran away from the fast motor boats used by the committee. Her time was 11 days 2 hours 17 minutes 24 seconds, an excellent showing, which would have been a record but for the 10 day 10 hour record established by Morning Star in 1949.

At exactly noon, the Coast Guard Cutter Yocona, which was to accompany the fleet on the 2400-mile race, fired the starting gun. First across were Chubasco and Morning Star, which holds the record. Her rig has been changed from schooner to ketch, permitting her to carry a larger fore triangle, and larger spinnakers and head sails than was formerly possible under her schooner rig.

Smack in the path of the racers lies Catalina Island. Close-winded vessels try to make it around the west end before the wind peters out in the late afternoon. Gaff rigs have no choice but to run down around the east end with the strong chance of being becalmed in the lee for as much as 18 hours. The

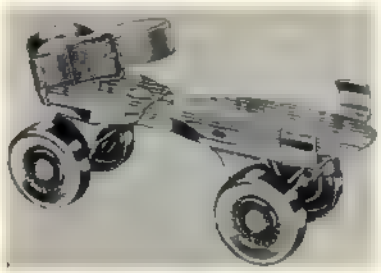
New Toy Review of 1954

Pink Pram

Playtime Products' doll carriage design for the toddler was featured recently in a model nursery show. The unique design for baby's first doll carriage was recommended as an ideal plaything for the child who is learning to walk.

Pink Pram has a plastic body and hood of delicate pink that can be kept clean with a damp cloth. The pusher of triple chrome and the soft white rubber tires are distinctive touches.

Retail price of the carriage, made by PLAYTIME PRODUCTS, INC., 442 N. Detroit St., Warsaw, Ind., is $7.95.



Clipper Skate

KINGSTON PRODUCTS CORP., 1400 N. Webster St., Kokomo, Ind., has announced production of its Clipper skate, a new single-row ball bearing roller skate. Model No. 612, the Clipper, has heavy duty construction throughout.

The stylish number is individually packaged for convenience in selling and storage. It will retail under $3.

Additional changes in other models of the Kingston line of roller skates have been made; new price lists and new catalog pages are available now from the company.

Gunstock-shaped Rack

PARRIS MANUFACTURING CO., Savannah, Tenn., has introduced its solution to the problem of keeping a boy's play equipment from underfoot. It is a novel rack made in the shape of gunstocks.

The rack, of grained knotty pine, has 11 pegs to hold the unwieldy possessions that usually clutter a boy's room—guns, holsters, lassoes, caps, fielder's gloves, and other belongings.

The attractive appearance of the gunstock racks makes them appropriate also as hat racks in dens, lodges, clubs and rumpus rooms. The clear finish can be painted to blend with any color scheme.

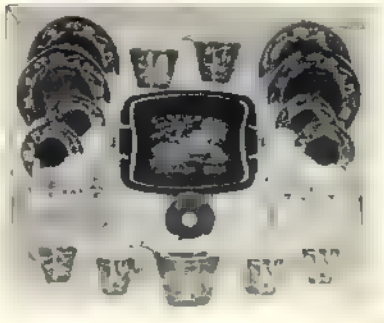
The racks measure 24½" by 23½" by 3" and weigh three pounds; they are also available in a 27½" by 27½" by 3" size.

Pagoda Tea Set

Latest addition to the Banner Tea Set line is a good-looking Pagoda Tea Set. Moulded in black plastic with golden screening, the set consists of 30 pieces—cups, saucers, cake plates, tea pot, creamer, sugar bowl, napkin holder, tray, knives, forks and spoons.

The napkin holder and tableware are finished in Banner's Metallone golden finish.

Manufactured by BANNER PLASTIC CORP., 60 Beckwith Ave., Paterson, N. J., the sets are individually packed in colorful display box, to retail at $3.98 and slightly higher in Denver and west.



Glo-Lites

Designed for the juvenile trade for use on bicycle fenders, wagons, doors, grilles scooters, boats, caps, pockets, jackets, and other possessions of a youngster, are Glo-Lite signs. Self-adhesive, and waterproof, each sign reflects all lights.

Glo-Lites are available in these designs, Indian head, Satan's head, skull and crossbones, and "stop" sign. The designs are carried out in red and white beads, or red and yellow beads.

Forty-eight assorted signs, individually packaged in a cellophane envelope, are attractively mounted on a three-color 7" by 11" serve-yourself display card. Packed 36 cards to a carton, Glo-Lites are made by INDUSTRIAL REPRODUCTIONS INC., 341 E. 162nd St., New York 51.

Campbell Kids

Latest additions to OAK RUBBER CO.'S line of Squeeze-Me toys for the carriage trade are two Campbell Kids, based on the trade-mark characters of Campbell Soup Co.

The lovable little toys have tinted faces and color-decorated uniforms. They are available in cellophane bags to retail at 59¢ each and in individual boxes at 69¢ each.

Oak Rubber is at Ravenna, Ohio.

(3) Is a receiving book kept? It needn't be a book. It can be a Kardex file, ledger, or a series of scraps of paper

The important thing is that there should be a permanent record maintained of what was delivered, when, from what shipper, via what carrier, by what truck, and in what form (as determined by quick examination)

FURTHER CHECKING

(4) The existence of a planned delivery examination does not eliminate need for the traditional retail checking procedure. "Here's why," one merchant explains. "You can't—it just isn't practical, any more than it's desirable—to completely check each item in a shipment. If there are, let's say, 144 widgets in a package the receiving employee can't do more than note that all 144 are there and that they appear on the surface to be in good condition. It's at the checking table that we determine widget by widget—that the quality as well as the quantity called for on the order is there, that the invoice agrees with the order and the shipment with the invoice. Sometimes, it will happen that mistakes not noticed at the initial receiving check-over are caught here."

SET TIME AND PLACE

(5) Appointing a set area of the storeroom (or lack of it, a back-of-store spot) and an hour and day of the week for checking merchandise makes, in the end, for less work. It's when checking piles up that the people who do it tend to perform their work with something less than efficiency, and that what could be a small chore becomes a major—and unwanted—job.

(6) Is a shipment shelved immediately after checking? Allowing 'checked' merchandise to remain in boxes or scattered on the storeroom floor makes it easy for new shipments to become mixed with it, with resultant confusion and waste of time—which is, so means waste of overhead dollars.

(7) The ideal time to price-mark

complishments in school work, savings, home chores, etc. "Through reading and other sources," says this dealer, "parents are becoming better educated about toys for their children and it is up to us who sell them to encourage and spread this tendency."

Bill Edmundson estimates that roughly 40 per cent of annual volume is done in December, 20 per cent in November and the other 40 per cent in the other 10 months of the year.

Mr Edmundson engaged architect Martin Lide to design his new building with an eye-catching front of interesting lines and modern window displays between the two front entrances. Exposed redwood is combined with red brick on the exterior; and at front the redwood slopes from sidewalk to roof line, which helps project the name, emblems and windows in three-dimension effect.

NEAR-SQUARE INTERIOR

The interior has 10,000 square feet of space and is almost square. Principal departments are laid out around the perimeter so that forward stock can be kept stored immediately behind the displays. This saves clerical time and facilitates inventory control by sales clerks in each department who are called in on the buying conferences.

The center area of the interior is broken into wide aisles to help circulate store traffic, permit a view of all departments, and give the customer a feeling of casual informality. Air conditioning also promotes the leisure shopping idea.

The interior is carefully planned so that items for a particular age group is close together. Inside the right door is the display of all wheel goods and larger playthings for indoors and outdoors. Beyond this is the doll department. Across back of the store is the model train and H. O. model department, featuring in scale miles the equivalent of two and one-half miles of track and all three makes of trains. The left side of the store has an office just inside the entrance followed by the infants' toy depart-

". . . and in this corner— The Champ!"

DOUGHBOY'S new, colorful bouncing boxer, will be ready for action this year—this fall, to be exact.

"The Champ," trim, fast-moving and tough, is out to take all comers.

He'll make his official bow just about the time summer vacations are ending, and school days are resuming.

Doughboy Industries Plastics Division introduced "The Champ" at a special showing held at the New Yorker Hotel in connection with the firm's sales meeting.

Sales representatives from all over the nation acclaimed "The Champ" for his action, and also praised two "stable mates," also 'Champs,' shown at the same time. "The Champs" will sell for $4, $3 and $2.

All are made of strong, inflatable Krene plastic film, and seams are sealed with the exclusive Doughboy heat-seal seamers. Art work is colorful and original. It was done by Bueford Smith, creative artist.

Nationally televised prize fights have generated a new wave of interest in the art of self defense among small boys and teen-agers of the nation, and these "champs" will be in great demand.

Balla-Rolla Balance Board

An exciting, hilarious game called Balla-Rolla Balance Board is the latest addition to the line of CARROM INDUSTRIES, Ludington, Mich. An action game, it develops coordination for many other forms of sports.

The object of the game is to balance oneself on a 32"-long board which rides on a 5" by 8" wooden roller. A considerable degree of skill can be developed, according to the company, in balancing on the wooden platform which is provided with specially designed non-slip treads on each end. The wooden roller is fitted to move freely in a hardwood frame on the underside of the balancing board.

Balla-Rolla Balance Boards are packed singly in a shipping carton. The package weighs 10 pounds.

"Tama Talker" Doll

An unusual new doll "who talks a blue streak," according to its manufacturer, the ADVANCE DOLL AND TOY CO., West Haven, Conn., has just been brought out.

The doll is called Tama Talker, and she talks, sings, and recites rhymes, all by means of a recording mechanism and motor concealed within her. The Columbia Recording Co. records, which are interchangeable, include familiar rhymes such as "One, two, buckle my shoe," and in addition Tama laughs and asks to be picked up. Standing 25" tall, she has a soft body, vinyl head, arms and legs, rooted Saran wig in either pony tail or bob style, and wears embossed dresses designed by Rita Langley of J and R Langley Co., Manchester, N. H.

Manufactured to retail at $14.95, Tama Talker follows Advance's "Winnie" and "Wanda" dolls, which are self-propelled, moving unaided by means of a winding mechanism and motor. Winnie walks unaided, talks, sings and recites — while Wanda walks alone but doesn't talk. Winnie retails for $24.95, and Wanda, at $10.95.

Fuzzy Fun

"Fuzzologists" is the name ART ROSS gives to enthusiasts of his new hobby material, Fuzzy Fun. The item consists of multi-colored chenille that twists into numerous fascinating shapes.

Fuzzy Fun is available in Stock No. 600, Deluxe Fuzzy Fun, to retail at $1. It is packed three dozen to a carton, and weight is 35 pounds per gross. It is also available in a junior size, Stock No. 8, to retail at 29c. Packing is six dozen to a carton; weight is 15 pounds per gross.

ART ROSS is at 22 E. 17th St., New York City 3.

Flying Circus

Newest addition to popular mobiles is a Walt Disney flying circus. The set contains five favorite characters from Disneyland dressed in colorful circus costumes, a red and white circus tent top and three modern design cross bars. All the pieces are die cut and printed on both sides in four colors.

The figures are suspended from each unit and move by air currents which make the Disney characters whirl and dance. Complete instructions and equipment for assembling are included in the eye-catching box.

Suggested retail price is 98c. The manufacturer is U. S. PLASTIC CO., 2570 E. Walnut St., Pasadena 8, Calif.

Kiddie Garment Bag

Latest product from the WEILL SPECIALTY CO., 1650 E. 38th St., Brooklyn 34, N. Y., is a Kiddie Garment Bag. Made of heavy duty vinyl plastic with a full 30" zipper, it measures 30" by 11" by 15".

The bag is gaily embossed with favorite nursery characters and will hold up to 12 garments. The boys' design is in blue or maize, the girls' design in pink, maize or red. The garment bag retails for $1.98.

Luttinger and Weil Combine to Represent Manufacturers

Monroe J. Weil

Mac Luttinger

Monroe Weil and Mac Luttinger have announced their combining of interests in the establishment of the firm of Luttinger & Weil.

With the re-opening of their new showroom, Suite 356, in the Fifth Avenue Building, they announce they are ready to welcome and serve their many friends in the toy industry.

Mr. Luttinger will continue to travel the midwest, and Mr. Weil will cover the east. The south will be served by Aaron Schwartz, who has been traveling this territory as representative of Weil Associates, Inc. These outstanding salesmen bring many years of successful selling and merchandising to this merger.

Mac Luttinger has served as a salesman and manufacturers' representative in the toy industry since 1945, and is an active member of the Toy Knights of America.

Monroe Weil, who has served for many years as secretary of the Toy Knights and is currently filling a second term as vice-president of that organization, is a son of Saul J. Weil, pioneer American toy manufacturer, who has been in the toy industry since 1907. Following military service, Mr. Weil entered the toy trade as a salesman and subsequently formed his own sales organization which ultimately led to the establishing of the new firm of Luttinger & Weil.

Aaron Schwartz, who has made a multitude of friends in the comparatively short time he has been traveling the south, is a native of, and currently resides in, New York City. Mr. Schwartz is a registered pharmacist and brings the experience of many years of wholesale selling and retail merchandising to the firm.

Visitors to Room 356 will find the following lines on display: H. Davis Company, crafts and activity items for girls and boys; Harry E. Wanner Mfg. Company, Lancaster Batons, Whips, Pig's Eye Gums; Educational Products Company, Hi N-Lo Stilts, Jiggle Stilts, Pogo Sticks; Plas-Trix Company, Scrabbler Pocket Puzzle, Game Puzzles, Paint-A-Puzzle, Water Guns, Doll Bodies, Inc., popular priced Undressed Dolls, Playmore, Inc., Intercom Telephones and Telegraph Sets; A. & L. Novelty Company, Boudoir Dolls, Stuffed Animals and Novelties.

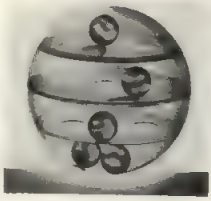
Miss Sheila Kaye is in charge of the New York showroom.

Tarrson's "3-in-1" Puzzle Ball

An amusing toy, game of skill and bath toy all in one is being presented by Sidney A. Tarrson Company, 712 N. Franklin Street, Chicago. It is but one of several new Tarrson items out in time for the Toy Fair.

The "three-in-one" toy described above is a crystal clear, 4" diameter, durable acetate ball. It contains five colorful marbles and three platforms, and the ball has to be manipulated until all five marbles have dropped through the holes in the platform and down to the bottom.

According to the manufacturer the toy is usable as a rattle or a tub toy by the very young or as an "eye and hand coordination" item by older children and adults.



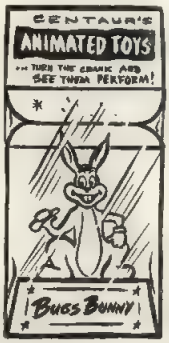
The retail price of the new "three-in-one" toy is 98c.

CENTAUR MAKING PLASTIC WARNER CARTOON CHARACTERS

"Toy buyers and dealers can expect to reap the greatest profits ever from the Warner Brothers Cartoon characters, Bugs Bunny, Elmer Fudd and Tweety, now being manufactured in pliable, plastic form by Centaur Productions," states Norval Crutcher, president of the firm, which is located at 125 Linden Avenue, Burbank, Cal.

"With the established international fame of these characters and the hundreds of organized fan clubs, the public will enthusiastically welcome Bugs, Elmer and Tweety as created in the unique animation of Centaur Toys," he added.

Designated a licensee by the Warner Brothers, Inc., the Centaur Company has accurately reproduced these national favorites in both mood and appearance.



Perfectly suited to Centaur's own special animation, these characters are rollicking as ever, mounted on a sturdy styrene red and blue plastic base, and moving to a crank which an 18-months-old baby can turn.

The actions of these Warner cartoon characters familiar to every child and adult in the country are recreated in the Centaur animation. Bugs ("What's Up Doc") Bunny munches on his eternal carrot and wiggles his flopping long ears, with that familiar expression suggesting an impending explosive unpredictable act. He comes in the Warner Brothers coloring of grey, white and pink.

Tweety the Canary has that soulful "Who, me?" expression, hands in front clasped piously and seated with his enormous feet raised on either side. He is colored yellow with blue eyes and an orange-tinged bill and feet.

Elmer Fudd is "huwwo-ing" with his usual complete politeness, tipping a derby. He's dressed in a brown suit, with that dignified wing-collar he always wears. It's the same old bald-headed, round-faced, big eyed gentleman of the cartoon screen.

Ready for immediate shipment to anywhere in the country, these cartoon characters are packed four each to a dozen display box, or assorted to order.

"BLOND DOLLS WHO WALK, TALK, SING..."

BY GEORGE POPKIN

The following, unsolicited column is reprinted from The Providence Journal Providence, R. I., of Nov. 26, 1953, through the courtesy of the author and that paper.

"Talk, talk, talk, talk, that's all the dolls do this Christmas," an alarmed father was saying.

"Stop it, Henry," his wife was saying. "Mummy, please pick me up. I'm so tired," the doll was saying.

The doll had a reason to be tired. Her name is Winnie, and she talks, talks, talks while she walks, walks, walks—all by herself.

Little girls present were the only ones not saying anything.

Their tiny mouths were not shut. In fact, they were open wide enough to win a dentist's acclaim.

The star of this toy store drama was a cute, albeit pudgy, blonde in blue organdy, standing 24 inches tall.

In the past, walking dolls had to be led by the hand like babies. You manipulated their wrists.

Winnie, however, is all wound up. She's automatic. She's a doll, a real gone doll.

A LEVER DOES IT

You press lever B and a record inside her starts playing.

She walks up to complete strangers and says, "Hello, my name is Winnie. I can walk and I can talk and I can sing." (For a blonde, that's a big deal.)

Whereupon the midget braggart sings "Farmer in the Dell," recites "Little Bo Peep" and "Jack and Jill."

Then comes the punch line about being tired.

If you're a sucker for "Jack and Jill," you wind up the blonde again.

If you're dazed enough or the little mother is insistent enough, you can buy enough assorted refill records to keep you away from home for weeks.

WALK, TALK and SING IS WHAT SHE DOES ALONE!

NO HOLDING, KICKING OR PUSHING!

NEW CATALOG BY KRAMER BROS.

Largest and most attractive brochure in Kramer Brothers' 23 years of serving the model-hobby industry, is the new 1954 consumer catalog.

Designed specifically for the retail dealer's sales promotional program, the catalog contains a most complete array of model, hobby and craft merchandise.

It features toy trains in all scales, toy train accessories, landscaping materials, model kits of all types, hobby and craft kits and materials, and a complete new line of model toys.

One of the firm's popular services is the annual consumer catalog furnished to dealers at cost—less than 3 cents per copy.

The new edition is printed in rotogravure, with eight of its 32 pages printed in attractive color. Measuring 7½ x 10⅛ inches, it is designed as a self-mailer . . . and is a powerful selling aid.

Kramer Brothers carries a full inventory of every item pictured in the catalog, and coupled with KB's 24-hour free delivery service in an area of seven states, it saves the dealer from investing in huge inventories.

A free sample copy may be obtained from Kramer Brothers, 319 Fallsway, Baltimore 2, Md.

• A meeting of the board of directors of the Model Industry Association was scheduled to be held October 9-10 in Cleveland.

Revell's Second Annual Father's Day Promotion

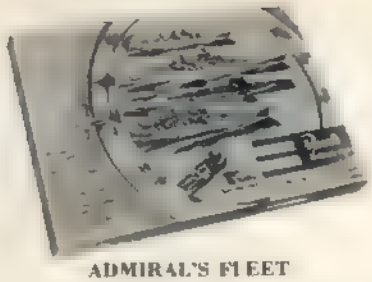
"HI, DAD!"



ADMIRAL'S FLEET

BY launching the biggest summer advertising promotion in the history of plastic hobby kits, Revell, Inc., is proving that one hobby manufacturer just does not believe in seasonal sales slump!

Life magazine will carry a full page in the June 14 issue, out June 11, really selling the exciting Revell "Admiral's Fleet" for Father's Day, June 20.

"This Father's Day. . . . Give Dad More Than A Gift. . . . Give Him A Hobby" is the theme for this dynamic ad showing Revell's dramatically illustrated "Admiral's Fleet" package and its five super-detailed ship models.

The five vessels — Battleship U.S.S. Missouri (Mighty "MO"), Destroyer U.S.S. Sullivans, Baltimore Class Heavy Cruiser, PT-Boat and ATOM-powered Submarine Nautilus—comprise the biggest hobby package ever offered.

Demand for the Mighty "MO" biggest seller in the Revell line, and the "Nautilus," has been spurred by front cover and front page news all year. The Fleet pack also will offer Revell's new Destroyer and Heavy Cruiser kits for the first time.

"Everything but salt air and seaspray is in this Life page," Revell president Lewis H. Glaser points out. "We're confident that the nautical feeling of the ad will inspire many new hobbyists to start a marine collection, and we're furnishing them all the necessary equipment—seven colors of paints, brush, thinner and cement—with the models at no extra charge." Cost of the complete set is $6 95 retail.

Enthusiasm for this summer campaign for hobbies has been growing steadily as the word spreads via the enormous mailing program which started April 12 notifying the trade. A four page Life-size cover folder, reproducing the ad and announcing the free issue of merchandising aids supplied with orders, was sent to nearly 20,000 jobbers and dealers. Five subsequent mailings, including a smaller French folder with a Life cover, a jumbo postcard, and letters, all carrying reprints of the ad, are scheduled to be sent at about two-week intervals until the ad appears.

A wealth of material for merchandising the "Admiral's Fleet" will be packed into every order of six packages. A bright orange strip will be fastened around each box, announcing "Father's Day Gift Set." Cases will contain window posters and easeled display cards with reprints of the ad and the "Advertised in Life" logos, 13 x 16-inch window strips, announcing Revell's Admiral's Fleet advertised in Life, with a reminder of Father's Day June 20, and 3 column x 10-inch newspaper ad mats on the Fleet set for Father's Day.

Full page trade ads are also being devoted to the promotion, which is Revell's second annual Father's Day selling event. "Revell expects that other manufacturers will join this program as time goes on," Glaser said.

Vibra-Tak in New Leather Case

A new leather carrying case is now supplied with the Fowler Vibra-Tak pocket tachometer. This case protects the precision markings on the tach from possible scratches when the instrument is kept in a tool box, and protects clothing if the tach is carried in the pocket.

A pencil-size precision "slide rule," Vibra-Tak gives instant rpm readings from 2,000 to 15,000, and enables the modeler to test comparative performance of his engine with different kinds of fuel, glow plugs, props, or other accessories. It is useful in competitive flying, and does the work of instruments ordinarily available only at $50.00 to $60.00, according to the company.

Vibra-Tak is built of high stress aluminum with wire reed indicator. It is said to be practically indestructible. Tuning slide is knurled for easy use. Markings are accurate and deep-etched. Price, including case, is $5. Vibra-Tak is available from Verdell Instrument Sales Co., Box 212, Burbank, California.

War Wife Suggests Hobby Work to Keep Occupied

"Find an interesting and constructive hobby and work at it," is the advice of Mrs. Margo Visser of Edgewood, Pa., to women whose husbands are away from home in military service.

The suggestion, voiced in The Pittsburgh Press, told how Mrs. Visser, whose husband is with the U. S. Military Intelligence in Germany, is occupying her time. "If you are sufficiently busy," she said, "there is little time to worry about separation and loneliness."

Five Outstanding Thompson "Firsts"

- Thompson was FIRST to design an outboard boat that would plane and handle, the burn. This made practical the use of high speed motors.
- Thompson was FIRST with full length spray rails. Thompson spray rails add strength and rigidity, steady the boat, prevent rolling, increase planing qualities, protect the sides of the boat—and keep passengers and boat dry, at speed.
- Thompson was FIRST, with a ... keel for ... of low speed.
- Thompson was FIRST to eliminate the hollow water line at the bow, thus giving the boat more buoyancy, and ability to ride over large waves instead of cutting through them. Treat rugged ... handler going in choppy water.
- Thompson was FIRST to use hollow and round strip planking with compressed seams, for lasting lightness.

service. The trouble is too many are so hungry for business they sell anyone, so it may take some time to make them see the danger of such practices. Actually it can ruin the department store business the way it is going."

"That would be too bad, for department stores have only recently been sold on the idea of maintaining an active toy department the year 'round," I observed. "What about late showings of changes from Toy Fair samples?" I continued.

"That is especially bad in dolls. Too bad, for that is one classification we would like to make commitments on early, but there is always the fear something 'hot' will appear late in the summer and we will need a good part of our allocation for such items."

MAKE PIRACY COSTLY

"What about piracy? Isn't that one of the reasons the doll people bring out late numbers?

"Yes, there is probably more piracy in that type item than many others, but I don't think there is much that can be done about piracy except what a lot of manufacturers have already worked out. Make such a good item at such a good price that it will cost as much to copy it, which results in no profit in imitating. Any merchant or customer would rather have the original, if the price is the same as the imitation."

"Your mentioning department stores being hurt by cut-rate houses . . . don't you think they also have a problem competing with independent stores who put 100 per cent effort behind toys the year 'round?"

"That is true, and the chains have really shown the way for year 'round business, especially in impulse items."

Thank you Mr. Wall for some interesting opinions and comments. With your sound background they fit right into the core of good toy buying.

Eyerly Associates, 1442 Merchandise Mart, Chicago, direct factory agents, announce that in their showrooms visiting buyers can find nine of the 104 toys selected by Toy Guidance Council judges as "prestige toys for 1954."

"Seven of the nine product lines we represent," states Jack Eyerly, "include items chosen in the TGC program. We are proud to be justified in our belief that we sell toys that are among the finest produced in this country."

The nine "prestige" toys carried by Eyerly Associates are shown in the accompanying illustration and are identifiable as follows:

Doughboy Industries' Bobo the Clown, an inflatable bounce-back toy; Barr Rubber Company's 4 Star Official Size Basketball; Wonder Products' Wonder Horse DeLuxe; Structo Manufacturing Company's Road Grader, Machinery Truck and Steam Shovel, and scale model Auto Transport Trailer; Skil-Craft Corporation's Handy Andy Tool Set; Burrowes' Pool Table; and the Saunders-Swadar Copter, modeled after Bell Aircraft's newest plane of that type

Doughboy Revamps Boxes

Climaxing a series of studies which began many months ago, the plastics division of Doughboy Industries is now set to introduce new packages for its line of inflatable plastic pools and toys.

These boxes will give merchants a compact, attractive counter-item display and it will serve as a special showcase for the toy or pool which it contains, the Doughboy people disclosed in a special report on the project.

The new package has a folded die-cut cover so that the Doughboy logo and toy illustration will stand up when the cover is folded back and so that the toy shows through the open box. The box is made of heavy corrugated cardboard and in special tests held up to 200 pounds.

The top of the box which folds back and stands up is white, red, light blue and yellow on a dark green background, a preview of the carton disclosed. On the sides of the box are colored diamonds with the Doughboy emblem.

Each box will carry information on the company, a note about Bakelite Krene plastic, the Doughboy forti-plyed sales message, and a word about the heat-seal seam. Also on the box will be the name of the toy and the age group for which it was created. There will also be instructions covering the manner in which the various toys should be used.

Doughboy this year is swinging into the most extensive sales promotion, advertising and publicity program in the history of the firm and every move is being closely coordinated through a team made up of the company's sales representatives all over the nation. All are reported working in close cooperation with the retail outlets for the various products.

New "22" Ad Service For Retailers

"22," a new advertising-merchandising service for local toy retailers, makes its debut on September 1, heralded by a national publicity and advertising campaign.

"22" is both a mat service and a merchandising guide. It provides mats and illustrations for every type of toy; complete advertising copy for each illustration; headline captions; and professionally-designed layouts for display and promotion Further, it stresses merchandising techniques keyed to the budget of the small retailer. In compact, simplified form, "22" brings the "tools of the advertising business" to the retailer's desk, saving him time, effort and money.

Released by Richard-Barry, Inc., of New York City, "22" was originated by Pennsylvanian Mike Goldenberg, a former ad-man-turned-toy-merchant, president of Richard-Barry, Inc. For the past ten years Mike has operated his own sporting goods-toy store in a Pittsburgh suburb.

Promoted at Luncheon

The new merchandising service was presented to the toy market at a luncheon for toy manufacturers, July 20, in New York's George Washington Hotel, as a cooperative venture between manufacturers and retailers designed to cut advertising production costs for local toy dealers who do an annual volume of business from $30,000 to $150,000.

Subscribers to the service, which will be sold directly and through jobbers, will receive two 11 by 17 books, containing complete advertising material and merchandising techniques; plus ten full pages of mats. One is for reference, the other for cut-outs and paste-ups of ads.

With the aid of "22," the retailer simply selects a mat for the item he wishes to advertise, matches it with corresponding copy and captions, attaches his signature cut, and the ad is ready for production. Ready-to-go promotions tying in with suggested ads are outlined, all using proven merchandising techniques.

"22" derives its name from the theme of the service Everything revolves about the numerals 22, from the low cost of the service to the retailer (only $22) to the number of pages in the book. Cataloged in "22" are 22 promotional ideas, 22 holiday and special occasions to exploit, 22 departmental and window display uses based on eight available displays, 22 catchy captions and headlines, etc.

Although it is primarily aimed at toy retailers who have a net annual income up to $150,000, Mr. Goldenberg told TOYS & NOVELTIES that there are numerous small-town dry goods and department stores who will find "22" an invaluable aid in planning their sales merchandising campaigns, particularly stores that do not maintain a full-time advertising staff. Manufacturers will also benefit by obtaining increased coverage of local newspaper advertising through use of their mats by the local retailer.

Holiday Advertising

Merchandising displays will be made available through the "22" service, and special supplementary editions will be published at intervals to tie-in with seasonal trade. The basic publication to be released this September is a complete guide to Christmas holiday advertising, as well as a comprehensive, all-year-round toy advertising almanac, according to Mr. Goldenberg.

A jobbers' subscription campaign is currently under way, with the goal set at distribution among 2,200 toy retailers. The service is backed by leading toy manufacturers whose products will be represented in the publication.

Gearing and initiating the campaign for Richard-Barry, Inc., in launching "22" is the Hoyland-Lewis Advertising Agency of New York City. Inquiries about the service should be directed to Miss Alyson Skipp Hoyland, of that agency, 207 East 43rd St., New York 17, N. Y.

"Trigger," New Riding Pony

Another famous name has joined the Train-Rite stable of children's rides. The new, sturdy mount for little rangers is "Trigger," famed horse of Roy Rogers. Trigger is a Palomino with white flowing tail and mane. He is made of dura-fibre, a new moulded product with great sales appeal, making a light, safe, colorful product. Natural hardwood rockers have a musical mechanism to give the children added pleasure Trigger has both a crossbar footrest and stirrups. Saddle height is 14½", overall height 24½", body is 23" long with 31" rockers. Weight 7 lbs. Suggested retail price is $11.95.

A vigorous campaign to give little Roy Rogers fans a miniature of the real Trigger includes an advertisement in the November 15 issue of Life magazine, and participation in all the Roy Rogers Christmas promotions to dealers.

Trigger is manufactured exclusively by Moulded Products, Inc., Maple Plain, Minnesota, whose dura-fibre products include Harry the Hairless Horse, Gertie the Goose, Train-Rite Training Chairs, and other items for girls and boys.

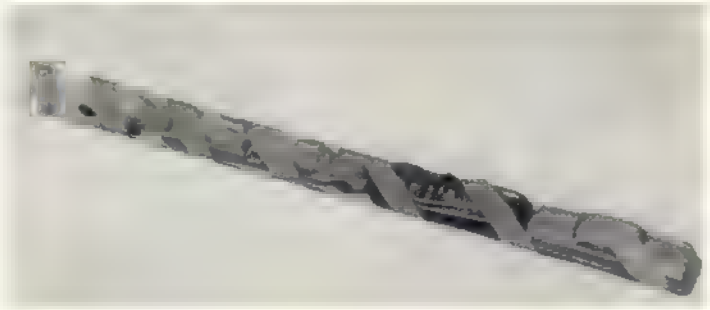
Pearl-Ets

The ancient practice of mosaic art has been revived in the form of a new toy, copyrighted and manufactured by the AMERICAN PEARL BUTTON CO., Washington, Iowa. The toy is "Pearl-Ets," consisting of six packages of smooth, highly colored bits of genuine pearl, plus sheets of a special double-coated adhesive cut out in the shapes of storybook animals. There are also matching cardboard frames for the adhesive cut-outs.

The child presses bits of pearl on the adhesive, using all one color or varying the colors, until the design is filled in. When the design is completed, the adhesive can be mounted on the frames and hung in the children's room. Or the pearl bits can be removed and used again and again on the adhesive background. Special blank sheets of adhesive are also included for the child to make his own design, providing an outlet for creative talent.

Pearl-Ets is clean: there is nothing to spill and the materials are not messy.

Completely contained in a sturdy, partitioned box, Pearl-Ets retails for $2 postpaid from the manufacturer.



"Peppermint Stick" Pack

A new "Peppermint Stick" package filled with five brightly colored, 10-cent assorted plastic "Wannatoys" is the newest item from Dillon-Beck Manufacturing Co.

The year-round toy is packed in an attractive cellophane package resembling a peppermint stick, 27" long. The No. 414 sticks are packed one dozen to the shipper, weighing approximately 3½ pounds.

Dillon-Beck is nationally represented by SMITH BENNY SALES CO., INC., 11 W 42nd St., New York City 18.

Tyk-Byk Attachment

When Jack Stockwell, shop foreman for STOCKWELL MANUFACTURING CO., Greybull, Wyoming, bought a 20" bicycle for his six-year-old daughter, Carol Rose, he found that after she took a couple of spills she became afraid of the bicycle. After much running up and down the sidewalk with her, she still had not gained confidence and returned to riding her tricycle.

Mr. Stockwell took the tricycle to his shop with the idea of making it into a sidewalk bike. The result was the Tyk-Byk, a 4th wheel mounted behind the two rear wheels in line with the front wheel. The attached wheel is adjustable vertically to raise regular rear wheels off the ground, in which position they serve as outriggers. It is now being produced for the market by Stockwell Manufacturing Co., to retail at $5.

Tyk-Byk fits all trikes. It is packed in a colorful display box, five boxes to a case. Shipping weight is 15 pounds per case.

Spot the State

Designed to keep children occupied on automobile trips of any duration is a new educational game called "Spot the State."

Manufactured by MONROE ENTERPRISES, East Orange, N.J., the game provides fun for one person or several. As the license plate of a car from any one of the 48 states or the 10 provinces of Canada is noted, the player first spotting it inserts a colored peg in the hole next to the matching picture of that license. When played by more than one, each player selects his color pegs so that the one having spotted the most license plates becomes the winner.

Under the full-color replica of each license plate is listed the state capital, population, number of representatives and state flower.

Spot the State lists at $1, and is available from Monroe's exclusive sales agent, F. J. Strauss, 1107 Broadway, N. Y. C.

The Kit, priced at 50¢ retail, is produced by KARBON KOPEE, 80 Boylston St., Boston 16, Mass. Jingle Dingle is licensed by Jason Comic Art, New York City.

KIDDICRAFT SENSIBLE TOYS, INC. PURCHASED BY PLAYSKOOL CO.

R. J. Meythaler and M. J. Fink, executive officers of Playskool Manufacturing Company, Chicago, have announced the purchase of Kiddicraft Sensible Toys Inc., 752 Third Street, Niagara Falls, N. Y. According to Mr. Fink and Mr. Meythaler this company was bought to expand further Playskool's coverage in all phases in craft and pre-school toys.

Kiddicraft Sensible Toys are molded from a new plastic called, "Playplax," an ideal plastic for toys for tots and young children. It is said to meet the rigid requirements of Playskool safety. The plastic is hygienic—it can be immersed daily in hot, soapy water for sterilizing; it is non-inflammable, produces bright clear toys which are colorfast, and is durable.

Kiddicraft Sensible Toys are created by a noted English child psychologist and toy designer Hilary Page. Mr. Meythaler and Mr. Fink, on their recent trip to Europe spent a considerable amount of time with Mr. Page relative to the development of some of the new designs that will be introduced at the Toy Fair as well as other new items that will be brought out periodically.

This new line of popular priced toys will consist of 16 items and will include Rattles, Teethers, Crib Exerciser, Nesting and Stacking Toys, Building Cubes and Mosaic Blocks. This new line will be introduced at the Toy Fair in the Playskool suite 426-428, Fifth Avenue Building, New York. An attractive catalog containing all information will be ready at that time it is announced.

Each of the Kiddicraft Sensible Toys will be boxed in a distinctive new acetate window gift box, in blue and white motif. Each item is pre-priced by a tear-off tab on the box. The packaging is the work of Harry Matts, a former Raymond Loewy associate, along with Morris Paper Mills and Playskool personnel. Each label completely describes by copy and illustration the age group of the toy and the activity the latter performs.

Kiddicraft Sensible Toys, Inc., will now become a division of Playskool Manufacturing Company, along with Lincoln Log and Appleton Juvenile Furniture Divisions. Its address will be 1750 North Lawndale Avenue, Chicago, with an FOB point at Hampshire, Illinois. Shipments of Play-

★ Easy step-in to seat ahead of fender. So handy, so convenient...No climbing over rear-mounted implements.

★ Cultivate up-front with "look ahead" cultivator—or behind with tools on Eagle Hitch. Adjustable tread, front and rear, for varied row spacing.

★ One-minute hook-up sitting down. Mount many Eagle Hitch implements without leaving tractor seat.

★ Eager 2-plow power from heavy-duty, high-torque engine with lugging ability for hard pulls at reduced speed.

NEW Stability on steep slopes makes the Low-Seat tractor ideal for conservation tillage. Eagle Hitch Field Tiller uses variety of teeth, sweeps and shovels for pasture renovation and stubble-mulch tillage.

Handiest Tractor for 100 Jobs

No matter how many tractors you have tried . . . no matter what claims you have heard . . . you'll never know how handy a tractor can be until you take the wheel of this Case Low-Seater. Plowing, tilling, planting, haying, harvesting, hauling—you do every job a little better, change implements easier, drive with real comfort. The minutes you save count up into precious hours. The pennies you save on fuel and the dollars you save on upkeep count up into real money. Prove these facts in your own fields, around your own farmstead. See your Case dealer now—arrange for a personal demonstration.

Cockshutt offers you the only sensible way to get the unvarnished facts about tractor performance

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY to find out about a tractor . . . and especially about a Cockshutt.

That's to drive it yourself . . . to work with it for a day or two . . . to test it on all of the jobs you'll be doing from the heaviest to the lightest.

Cockshutt dealers believe this is the only way to prove the facts about Cockshutt economy and performance. So . . .

Just phone the nearest Cockshutt dealer. Ask him to bring a Cockshutt to your farm for a demonstration. Then you drive it. See for yourself what it will do. Test its range of speeds and power . . . its amazing lugging ability. Try the "live" power take off . . . the "live" hydraulic system. Point for point . . . feature for feature . . . you'll like what you will find in a Cockshutt. Under its trim smooth lines there's a lot more quality . . . a lot more advance engineering features than are found in other makes of tractors.

If you have a big farm with long fields and plenty of tough going, we suggest you ask for the big 5-plow "50" or the slightly smaller "40". If you are fitting ground at the time, try stringing two, three or even four fitting tools behind it . . . and do a week's work in a couple of days.

If you have a smaller farm with shorter fields, or if you do strip cropping and contour farming ask for the Cockshutt "20" or the 3-plow "30" with hydraulically controlled mounted implements. A touch of your finger lifts the tools clear for transport, crossing waterways, or backing into tight spots.

We urge you to try this means of getting the straight facts about Cockshutt equipment . . . facts that are believable because you experience them yourself. There's not a penny of cost to you. We honestly believe you'll discover that the Cockshutt is a tractor you can't afford to be without.

Better Tied Bales

and more of 'em!

When your hay is cut and lying on the ground, nothing in a baler counts more than its ability to deliver well-tied bales in a minimum amount of time.

That is why the Dearborn Hay Baler is winning the approval of so many experienced farmers and baler operators. They find it moves right along in heavy-yielding hay and turns out bales at a fast clip—up to eight bales a minute, ten tons of hay in an hour. These square-cornered bales stack easier, and they are firmly tied to withstand loading and handling.

You get extra feeding value from Dearborn-made bales, too. The job is done so quickly and the hay handled so gently that more pasture-fresh nutrition is retained in every bale.

See your nearby Ford Tractor Dealer and have him show why you are bales and dollars ahead with the Dearborn Hay Baler. Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Company, Birmingham, Michigan.

Thoroughly tested and approved by Ford agricultural engineers and specialists. Dependable parts and friendly service through your Ford Tractor Dealer.

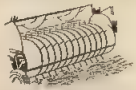
Ford Farming MEANS BETTER WORK... MORE INCOME PER ACRE

Here's why...



Extra wide pick-up handles big windrows. Floating action picks up hay cleanly over rough ground. Auger and sweep fork give positive delivery of hay into bale chamber.

Automatic tension bar, plus adjustable side tension, exerts pressure from all sides. Turns out smooth, tightly packed and uniform bales, filled to the corners.

Securely tied bales made with the Dearborn Hay Baler stay tied have less tendency to buckle when coming out of baler loader chute. Fewer loose bales.

Gauge wheel on pick up • Low 18 inch lift of hay • 36 or 42 inch bales • Bale counter • Powerful 25 h.p. engine • Self starter • Compact • Fewer parts Fields seem a lot smaller with a Massey-Harris!

BALANCED POWER DESIGN is the big reason why

You'll agree plowing can take a lot out of a tractor — pull it down into the low r.p.m.'s where engines really get fuel thirsty and fight for all they can get.

That is — you'll agree until you've driven a Massey-Harris.

Try this. Settle into the seat of a Massey-Harris. Start the engine. Just "loaf" there getting the feel of the controls. Listen to the engine.

It has a husky, "muscular" tone. More willing . . . more eager . . . to get into the field. There's more "let's go" in every touch of the throttle.

This extra power and smoothness is the result of Balanced Power Design.

Balanced Power Design is the precision in Massey-Harris carburetor design, performance, adjustment . . . the fast vaporizing and fuel delivery of smooth bend, free-flowing manifolds . . . the greater power leverage, torque reserve, of long stroke pistons . . . the full power use of precision cut gears.

In Massey-Harris big tractors it's a spinning, swirling cyclone in the cylinders . . . the power turbulence of Cyclo-Head combustion.

Drive . . . test . . . compare a Massey-Harris to any tractor you've ever used — you'll find that here's the power partner you've been looking for.

See your Massey-Harris dealer for complete details—arrange a demonstration. For folder, write The Massey-Harris Company, Inc., Dept. D-220, Racine, Wisconsin.

There's no doubt about it—you'll keep more of your dollars at home with a John Deere Model "50," "60," or "70" Tractor.

MORE WORK PER DAY. Even the "50"—low-priced youngster of this famous trio—has a tremendous appetite for work. It pulls 3-bottom plows, 8-foot disk harrows . . . plants and cultivates four rows at a time . . . operates the brand-new one-row mounted cotton picker . . . handles a two-row mounted corn picker—saves time and labor every step of the way by greatly increasing the amount of work one man can do in a day. And you get even greater work output per day with the 3–4 plow Model "60" or the king-size "70."

ON MORE FARM JOBS. New 3-point hitch with your choice of many new tools brings small-tractor utility and convenience to the big-tractor field. "Live" power shaft operates a variety of power-driven machines at top speed and efficiency, and saves the cost of purchasing and maintaining auxiliary engines.

WITH ROCK-BOTTOM ECONOMY. Duplex Carburetion Engines with Cyclonic Fuel Intake and All-Weather Manifold operate with utmost efficiency summer and winter. Exclusive design places more of the total tractor weight over the drive wheels to provide increased traction and make every ounce of power, every drop of fuel count more. And John Deere's two-cylinder design with its unequalled simplicity and its unmatched strength of parts insures longer life—lower maintenance costs.

yield sales. In some outlets this type of fixture is located close to the window area as an eyecatcher to pull in outside traffic.

Before we go ahead and discuss other fixtures, let us stop and devote some time to the proper stacking of the merchandise. We must do this because, highly functional as a fixture may be, its purpose will be defeated or short-circuited if the merchandiser fails to observe sound principles of display.

IN PROPORTION

The smaller the store the more compact the fixtures should be and the less top-heavy any specific display. For this reason never crowd a low platform even though the fixture may seem to afford it. Use enough variety and mass display of items to suggest plentiful supply. The adult buyer may often be accompanied by a child, but even if not accompanied the customer must be given enough range and impact of items so that his or his child's interest may be pinned down in relatively short time. When too many of the same items are displayed or not enough of any single item, the mass items may be rejected and the few items ignored so that a possible sale will have been lost because the stacking was unsound.

Take Fixture 2: The advantage of this type of installation is that usually it precludes poor stacking because it imposes a discipline on the merchandiser from the angle of display. By presenting shelving limiting the size and number of items that can be displayed and by affording separate shelving for the items, the toyman cannot go far wrong in his aim to achieve impact.

To return to the low platform, the low base is ideal for trains with ex-

Making Dolls for Four Generations

Craftsmen representing three generations, from a family that has been making dolls for four generations, were seen making their famous "Dolls with Personality" at W & J Sloane's open house in Beverly Hills, Calif., Friday evening, October 9. The store and many live exhibits of craftsmanship were open to the public from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m

The dollmakers were Mrs. Eddy P. Berkeley of Hollywood, who was seen stitching, stuffing and finishing; Mrs. Esther Berkeley, her mother, now 80 years old, who makes all of the clothes for the dolls, and "Eddy's" son, Sidney Seigel, who does the cutting.

Mrs. Esther Berkeley's mother started the family craft in Bucharest, Roumania, many years ago. The present family has carried on the business in Hollywood for the past twenty years, where the dolls have won considerable movie fame.

"There aren't many movie stars' homes," said Mrs. Berkeley, "that don't have our dolls displayed in them."

Scarecrows, elephants, pickaninnies, bunnies, clowns, Suzettes and dozens of other character dolls are among the well-known ones. Educational films at Paramount Studio have featured them, and they have recently appeared in TV on the "This is the Life" show. Eddy P. Berkeley was for some time the Duchess in the Red Ryder series.

IMPROVED DESIGN FEATURED IN 2-WHEEL ROCKET SKATES

There's been no price increase in improved Rocket Skates. Priced to retail at $7.95, Rocket Skates are available now on immediate delivery from Rocket Skate Company, 1125 Chestnut Street, Burbank, Cal.

Two-wheel Rocket Skates are now faster, more maneuverable than ever. Improved design features sturdy steel construction, a highly durable finish, wider streamlined clamp and comfortable cushioned strap.

Rocket Skates' design—two special plastic rubber wheels centered front and back on each skate—make them a favorite with skaters who appreciate the easy balancing and maneuverability that offer more speed, faster pivots and stops than ordinary skates. Skates are swift and noiseless, harmless to floors and safe, too, for the wheels have no sharp edges.

An eye-catching decorative feature of the new design is the gayly colored wing on each rear wheel. Double ball bearings on each wheel are enclosed against dust.

Willie Mays' Baseball Game by Toy Development Company

Willie Mays, star hitter and outfielder for the New York Giants, will lend his pleasant personality and enthusiasm to the promotion of a new baseball game manufactured and distributed by the Toy Development Company, Inc., 29 St. Marks Place, New York City 3.

The game was first released shortly before World Series time and is said to have been immediately successful. Sales in Puerto Rico, where it was introduced at the beginning of the fall baseball season simultaneously with Willie's appearance there, indicate that with a full baseball season in the United States the sales should be correspondingly high here during the spring.

Willie, who is shown above explaining to a group of eager youngsters how they can learn baseball strategy with his game, has licensed the rights to the Toy Development Company. Oliver Garfield, president.

The game was designed in the company's testing shop. Willie Mays sat down with a group of youngsters who qualified as baseball game "experts" and among them worked out a completely new game that has all the action of real play: pitching, batting, and fielding all of which demanded both hand-eye coordination and baseball savvy of the players. The game has a glossary of all terms and a discussion of baseball strategy prepared by Willie.

Sales of the game are boosted with personal appearances by Willie that must be scheduled in advance. A publicity campaign on sports pages and on TV will back up participation department store advertising by department stores.

The game is available in two versions at $1 and $1.98 retail. All inquiries should be directed to the Toy Development Company which also manufactures a full line of standard games and jig saw puzzles.

Centaur Set with Snowman, Santa, Choir Boy, Girl Angel

Ready now for winter fun are Centaur's "playable, pliable" plastic Winter Carnival set of the Snowman, Santa, Choir Boy and Girl Angel, it was announced by Norval Crutcher, general sales manager. Each is appropriate to all occasions of the season.

A crank, so easy to turn even for an 18-months-old child, gives the Centaur toy fun-provoking animation. The clownish Snowman smiles, tips his top hat, and turns his head in one rolling movement. The rollicking Santa shakes with mirth all over. The heavenly Girl Angel with hair of gold and eyes of blue, flutters her wings and moves her head and hand. The angelic Choir Boy goes through the motions of singing from his choir book, moving his head from side to side, opening his mouth and shaking his wings

The new Centaur styrene plastic "Glitter Base" adds a sparkling galaxy of color to this Winter Carnival Assortment. All the toys are non-toxic, assuring maximum safety for the child.

Sales will be promoted by a colorful eye-catching display box with a die-cut background of a red, blue, black and white winter scene. The box contains 12 Centaur toys, each in any desired assortment. The set is also individually packaged in Cello-Pack with a colorful card backing. The retail price of this number is a popular 40c.

Orders are now being accepted for immediate delivery to any point in the United States from Centaur Productions, 123 E. Linden Boulevard, Burbank, Cal., Mr. Crutcher added

Often Imitated—Never Equalled

The famous "Sleeping Pup" is a perfect example of WOOLNOUGH originality and quality. One of our exclusive staples for many years, like many other fascinating items in the WOOLNOUGH Line, it has proven just too difficult to imitate. And yet for all the unequalled superiority in design and perfection of workmanship always assured by WOOLNOUGH animals, you will find WOOLNOUGH prices in the same category as other lines of distinctly inferior quality.

Come in and look over the line that so many buyers are finding to be tops in quality but comparable in price to what you would expect to pay for the ordinary.

TO MY MANY CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS IN THE TOY INDUSTRY:

This is the TWENTY SIXTH ANNIVERSARY of the birth of CAL'S COLT. Way back when former President Calvin Coolege was in the White House this "baby" was born. Surely, this proves that thru the test of time this "plaything" has established its merit as a health builder, exerciser and fun producing broncho for happy children.

THANKS A MILLION for all your past orders and favors which have helped me produce CAL'S COLT in ever increasing volume and made tens of thousands of kiddies happy, healthy and better Americans.

I am most anxious to make this a banner year and ask those of you who have not already placed an order to do so. I pledge you my sincerest co-operation and want to say again THANKS!, THANKS!, THANKS.

Sincerely,

Al Moritz

HELP RESIST HEAT HERE

Republic ENDURO Stainless and Heat-Resisting Steels are made for flight

Tail pipes and exhaust cones are but two applications in which ENDURO proves its ability to withstand the scorching gases that thunder through jet engines. Rotor compressors, turbines, after-burners, and shrouding are others.

And, ENDURO offers much more than this single quality. It stubbornly resists rust and corrosion. It resists abrasion. It maintains its great strength at what extremes of temperature. It provides that strength without prohibitive weight. It is easy to fabricate. It serves you well . . . and long.

For your future development work, ENDURO is available in many forms: sheets, strip, cold-finished bars, forging bars, wire and tubing. Through Republic's exclusive "Three-Dimension Metallurgical Service" you get help in applying ENDURO Stainless and Heat-Resisting Steel most efficiently.

Park's NEW JET-PROPELLED ROCKET YOU'VE HEARD AND READ SO MUCH ABOUT!

The Park Rocket is one of the Most Amazing Toys Ever Engineered and Developed for the Space-Minded American Child

- Travels Over 300 Ft. into Air, Operates on True Scientific Jet Principle

Here's how it works! The rocket is turned upside down and filled approximately 1/3 full of water through the tail, by means of a funnel included with the set. Then, a precision designed pump—also included with the set—is attached. The rocket is turned nose upward, and air is injected with the pump. Up-launching, is controlled by a trigger, the compressed air forces rocket 300 feet or more into the air. The height of travel is controlled by the amount of air injections into the rocket.

Made of almost indestructible butyrate plastic, one 8-inch space rocket, a compression pump, and a filler funnel are included in the dramatically designed display box. Suggested retail $1.98. Replacement rockets are available at a suggested retail price of $.49 each.

How Wilson clubs help you hit 'em where you want 'em

Every Wilson wood and iron is built to increase your distance But you need more than a long ball to score well. You need accuracy . . . so Wilson clubs are designed to give better control, too.

For example: The exclusive "Reminder" grip squares your club-face to your planned line-of-flight. And the life-long tackiness of finest calfskin makes sure your hands are firm at impact.

The new Wilson-specified Rocket shaft by True Temper builds accuracy, too, by concentrating the "feel" of the club down at the head-end of the shaft. This gives you a club-head that's easier to time . . . so you can feed in more power without coming out of your hitting groove

Wilson Woods help you keep your shots from drifting because Strata-Bloc head construction guarantees a true club-face for true flight. And Wilson irons, with their special distribution of weight throughout the head, help your control, too. You avoid pressing—stroke that ball smoothly—when you know your irons are delivering maximum power at impact.

All Wilson club design results from the largest and most respected professional consultant staff in golf, working closely with Wilson craftsmen. We feel the construction details built in at the suggestion of Sam Snead, Cary Middlecoff, Porky Oliver, Dutch Harrison, Gene Sarazen, Patty Berg, Babe Zaharias and many others are important in explaining why today more golfers play Wilson's than any other clubs.

Wilson Irons • the entire face is a power-[illegible] area due to special weight distribution throughout the club-[illegible]

Wilson Strata-Bloc Woods • impervious to moisture at impact. With [illegible] assured and club-[illegible] impossible, greater accuracy [illegible]

Wilson Rocket Shaft • concentrates "feel" of club down at the shaft's head end. Makes head easier to time, boosts club head speed for more distance cats have nine lives...

...they can afford to take chances. But even cats are cautious. All of us take chances every day... and sometimes they are needless.

Take hobby kits, for example. Some dealers buy without asking questions like these: "Are they authentic ...scaled from official prints? How are the details? Is this part of a complete line that will attract collectors? Does the manufacturer have a reputation for producing kits that sell...and for helping to move goods off my counter?

Failure to ask such questions is often the difference between getting rapid turnover on your investment—and getting stuck with a dead or slow-moving inventory

That's why so many profit-conscious, sales-minded dealers put their efforts behind REVELL, the line that assures:

★ exact scale, fully-detailed authenticity;
★ models with universal appeal;
★ eye-attracting, attention-compelling packaging;
★ pricing that assures full profits to the trade;
★ price ranges with excellent values to consumers.

Get your share of the ever-expanding market for authentic model kits by featuring the proven-by-performance line—REVELL!

Baltimore Class HEAVY CRUISER

Moving fast down the ways and into the sea of sales, this newest member of the model fleet is a perfect 17-inch replica of the U. S. Navy's most "un-expendable" vessel. Promotion-planned to sell as the "fighting companion" to the "Mighty Mo," this all-plastic, easy-to-build model is precision-molded to exact scale from official Navy blueprints. It's unbelievably complete with such fascinating details as machine guns, anti-aircraft cannon, triple turrets, two planes and catapults, radar rigging and signal flags. In dramatically illustrated full-color display box. Retails for $1.69. 11-330.

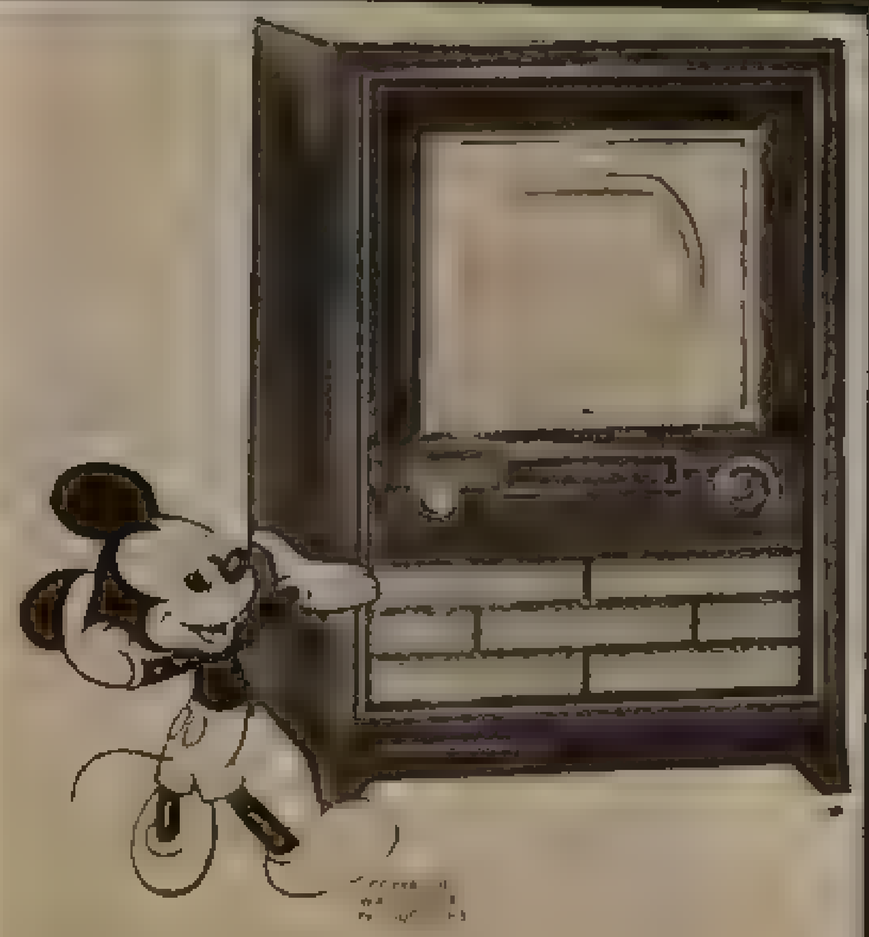
DISNEY CONTEST

Will Attract Scores at Fair

A MAGNIFICENT 1954 RCA-Victor color television set is the prize for the winner of a contest sponsored by the character merchandising division of Walt Disney Productions. This event is open to all buyers and executives representing a retail or wholesale organization, who are registered at the Fair. Manufacturers or persons associated with manufacturers' affiliates are not eligible. Donald Duck will act as the receiver of all entry blanks as he highlights eye-catching ballot boxes which will be located in the showrooms of the Walt Disney licensees exhibiting at the Fair.



RCA color television set that will be awarded to some lucky contestant in Disney event at Toy Fair.

The winner of this sensational prize will be one of the first in America to have color television in his home. This new addition to television entertainment has been eagerly awaited by the public and the winner will thrill to the programs currently available for color televiewing. Up 'til now, the majority of color telecasts have been available only as demonstrations to highly selected audiences. The set will be delivered to the home of the winner, free of charge.

Color and Black-and-White

RCA-Victor is recognized as a leader in the field of television, and is a pioneer in the development of color television. Its color sets are equipped to receive black and white telecasts as well as color shows.

The contest opens on March 8 and runs through March 15. Mickey Mouse will draw the winner on March 16 in the presence of three impartial judges, Mrs. Maxine Livingston, family home editor of Parents' magazine; Franklin Butler, editor of TOYS & NOVELTIES; and Wally Voorhees, president of Playthings magazine.

Buyers and executives may drop entries once in each of the Donald Duck boxes at the showrooms of Walt Disney licensees —more than 50 chances for each eligible person to win, but an added note is that only one ballot entry per person may be deposited in each box.

Many a toy buyer has "learned his lesson" with Fisher-Price Toys . . now they order more than they think they need because they never seem to have enough! There are many reasons for this. GROUCHO TV QUIZ GAME

- IT'S MAGNETIC! • IT'S EDUCATIONAL!
  (No wires or batteries)
- IT'S FUN FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY!

SEE ME ON TV!...
WHEN I INTRODUCE THE GROUCHO TV QUIZ ON "YOU BET YOUR LIFE," OVER 137 TV STATIONS STARTING THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30.

HEAR ME ON RADIO OVER 215 STATIONS COAST-TO-COAST STARTING WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29.

This is IT!... A new, exciting game that will be presold by Groucho himself to the 18,000,000 audience of 'You Bet Your Life".

We are backing this promotion with national advertising, cooperative local ads, ad mats, counter cards, window streamers, etc.

Here's how it works...

A big 5" plastic figure of "Groucho himself" spins magnetically to point to the correct answers. The whole family takes turns playing Quizmaster, wearing Groucho's own mustache and costume accessories which come with the game. There's lots of play money in the Jack Pot for the big pay-offs...and it's fun for the whole family.

Park's NEW JET-PROPELLED ROCKET YOU'VE HEARD AND READ SO MUCH ABOUT!

The Park Rocket is one of the Most Amazing Toys Ever Engineered and Developed for the Space-Minded American Child

- Travels Over 300 Ft. into Air, Operates on True Scientific Jet Principle

Here's how it works! The rocket is turned upside down and filled approximately 1/3 full of water through the tail, by means of a funnel included with the set. Then, a precision designed pump—also included with the set—is attached. The rocket is turned nose upward, and air is injected with the pump. Up-launching is controlled by a trigger, the compressed air forces rocket 300 feet or more into the air. The height of travel is controlled by the amount of air injections into the rocket.

Made of almost indestructible butyrate plastic, one 8 inch space rocket, a compression pump, and a filler funnel are included in the dramatically designed display box. Suggested retail $1.98. Replacement rockets are available at a suggested retail price of $.49 each.

"fault-finding" is a virtue here!

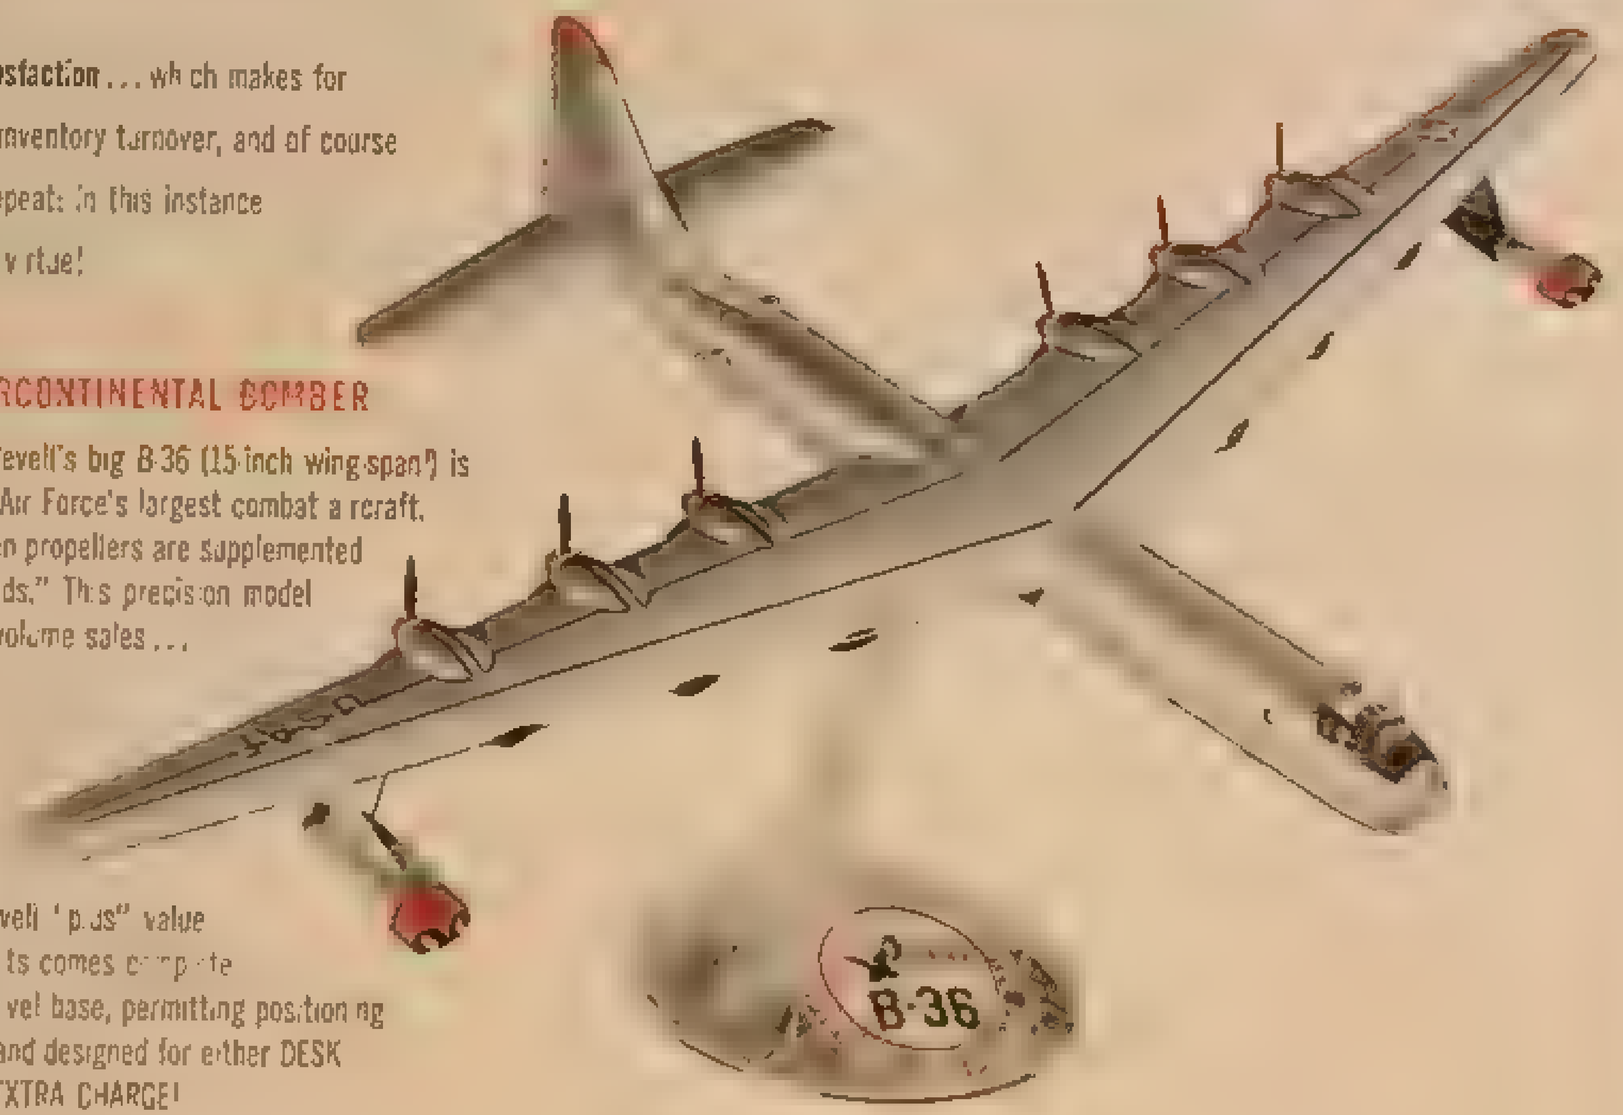
Most of us know that fault finding isn't a short cut to winning friends and influencing people. Still there is a place for it . . . even an honored place . . . in producing model kits. That's when "fault finding" is the by product of fact finding, the basic function of our Research Department.

At strategic points in the development of each new Revell kit there is stationed a "fault finder" . . . whose sole function is to ask: "Have we incorporated every possible detail? Have the official prints been faithfully followed? Have we made this easy to assemble without sacrificing authenticity? Is this addition worthy of the Revell name?

This is our way of making sure that each new item is a worthy companion to the other Revell items in the line; and equally important, that the million-odd purchasers of Revell kits will find the new item a welcome addition to their collections.

For each Revell item IS a "collector's piece" . . . authentic, realistic, true to scale . . . the kind people are proud to display.

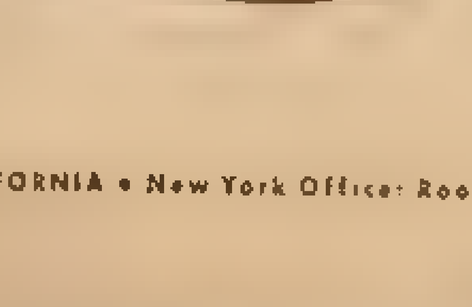
That's true customer satisfaction . . . which makes for repeat sales, more rapid inventory turnover, and of course MORE PROFIT. May we repeat: in this instance "fault finding" is really a virtue!



B-36 CONVAIR INTERCONTINENTAL BOMBER

Sales ceiling unlimited! Revell's big B-36 (15-inch wing-span) is a miniature image of the Air Force's largest combat aircraft. Its six piston engine driven propellers are supplemented by four jets in paired "pods." This precision model Hobby Kit will command volume sales . . .
H-205 98c

P.S.—Here's a typical Revell "plus" value each of the new bomber kits comes complete with a unique revolving swivel base, permitting positioning the plane at any angle . . . and designed for either DESK or WALL use! And at NO EXTRA CHARGE!



Revell inc. 4223 OCEAN PARK AVE., VENICE, CALIFORNIA • New York Office: Room 1260 200 Fifth Avenue Bldg.

you can't weigh it on a scale!

Craftsmanship is made up of many intangibles: it's the difference between a Van Gogh at $5,000 and a $20 daub by a novice . both the same size, using the same amount of materials. It's the difference in sound between Heifitz on a fine violin and the same instrument in the hands of a "fiddler."

In Revell model kits, it's craftsmanship, plus—plus the thousands of hours spent in research, in model designing, in mold making, the intricate care and patience, the meticulous attention to detail that is part and parcel of every Revell kit. No scale, no ruler can measure these added intangibles.

But the Revell craftsmanship is at once apparent when you take a moment to compare, for side by-side comparison reveals the difference. And with competition becoming ever keener, with increasing duplication of items and of entire lines, your best interests are best served when you offer the most authentic models, the best values in each category

When you select model kits, weigh this thought . . the details make the difference . . . and the difference creats the demand . . for REVELL!

Bearings scored by car dumping?

Not when they're TIMKEN® tapered roller bearings

WHEN a freight car is operated in a car dumper, the load per journal is momentarily doubled. That's because the load is carried on four journals instead of eight. Under these conditions, if there is any lateral movement within the roller bearing as the car is tilted, there is a good chance that the bearing will be scored, thereby seriously reducing bearing life.

That is, unless the cars have axles mounted on Timken® tapered roller bearings. Because they're tapered, Timken bearings take not only the up-and-down, or radial load, but the sideways, or thrust loads as well. Lateral movement within the bearing is impossible. There's no chance of scoring.

Furthermore, Timken tapered roller bearing journal boxes are equipped with rubbing seals. Only with this type of seal can there be assurance that there will be no leakage of lubricant when the car operates in a car dumper.

Get what you pay for when you switch to roller bearings to end the hot box problem and cut operating and maintenance costs to a minimum. Get Timken tapered roller bearings. The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton 6, Ohio. Canadian plant: St. Thomas, Ontario. Cable address: "TIMROSCO".

TAPERED ROLLER BEARINGS

NOT JUST A BALL NOT JUST A ROLLER THE TIMKEN TAPERED ROLLER

BEARING TAKES RADIAL AND THRUST LOADS OR ANY COMBINATION

Canadian Pacific's 84 new coaches, dome cars and diners roll on TIMKEN® bearings

As part of its $40,000,000 improvement program the Canadian Pacific Railway is putting into service 84 new stainless steel coaches, dome cars and diners. All will be modern cars equipped with Timken® tapered roller bearings to eliminate the expensive hot box problem—cut operating and maintenance costs.

Because of their tapered design, Timken bearings are the only journal bearings that deliver what you expect when you buy a roller bearing. They're the only bearings you can count on to end the hot box problem and cut operating and maintenance costs to a minimum.

Because of their taper, there's no lateral movement in Timken bearings. No lateral movement to score rollers and races, shorten bearing life. No lateral movement to pump lubricant through the seal and out of the journal box, draw dirt and water in.

Because of their taper, Timken bearings have positive roller alignment. Ends of rollers are held snug against the rib and their wide area contact keeps rollers properly aligned. The rollers can't skew to upset full line contact. The load is always carried the full length of the rollers

With passenger trains on roller bearings, the next great step in railroading will be converting freight trains to roller bearings, too. And this step is a lot nearer now because a new Timken heavy-duty bearing assembly cuts the cost of applying roller bearings to freight cars 18% to 25%. This new bearing assembly fits all types of side frames and comes pre-assembled and pre-greased. Complete information is yours for the asking.

Make sure you get all that a roller bearing can give you. Get Timken tapered roller bearings. The Timken Roller Bearing Company, Canton 6, Ohio. Canadian plant: St. Thomas, Ontario. Cable: "TIMROSCO".

TOMORROW'S AIRCRAFT: One step closer

Westinghouse—Rolls-Royce technical interchange advances jet development

Two world leaders in the manufacture of aviation gas turbines recently combined engineering forces through a ten-year technical cooperation agreement. As a result, Westinghouse and Rolls-Royce will exchange the wealth of design, development and production experience gained from their respective work on turbine-type power plants. This makes available an unprecedented amount of capability for jet engine development and provides the world's largest source of aircraft propulsion.

Westinghouse—Rolls-Royce can now supply turbo-prop and jet power for commercial transport, military aircraft, guided missiles and the many R.P.V. concepts still on the design boards . . . giving America's airplane builders the advanced engine designs required for successful conquest of supersonic flight.

American FLYER

Only American Flyers have realistic two-rail tracks. Only American Flyers are built to 3/16" scale.

Only American Flyer trains are true scale models throughout, replicas in miniature of the famous passenger and freight trains seen on real railroads. American Flyer 3/16" equipment has the length and sweep of real trains. In gauges larger than American Flyer 3/16" gauge true scaling is impossible without making cars and locomotives too big and cumbersome for most homes.

The walls of the house are made of high impact styrene and designed in high detail; i.e, two sides are molded to simulate clapboard and two sides molded to simulate stucco. Such details as an outdoor lamp, shutters, window boxes, workable doors, and trellises overlooking the patio, simulate realism. The base of the house is printed in four colors to simulate the various room floors. Easily assembled by means of corner clips which snap in place. Fourteen polyethylene buttons prevent any scratching of table surfaces which the house may rest on during play time. The house itself contains seven rooms of furniture, kitchen, dining room, living room, bathroom, nursery, bedroom, and patio. Many of the pieces have added play-value in that they have moving components. For example, in the nursery the sides of the crib move up and down, the drawers of the highboy are removable, and the bathinette is collapsible. The complete unit comes knocked down within an individual 200 pound test corrugated container with full instructions for easy assembly. Complete with 36 pieces of furniture.
